

We're expanding our taxonomy to include Planetary Science

EarthArXiv is a free community-led preprint service for the Earth sciences. Our goal is to enhance scholarly communication and make research more widely accessible.

Recognizing the scientific overlap between Earth and planetary science domains, EarthArXiv has recently expanded its indexing and search taxonomy to include planetary science terminology. Examples include, but are not limited to, planetary geology and geophysics. EarthArXiv welcomes manuscript submissions from the planetary community as well scholarly communication and preprint enthusiasts who want to join us as Community Ambassadors.
